

Basic HTML Text

school of journalism and mass communication

USING BOLD AND ITALICS

Bold = `text in here`

Example Photo 1: In the digital age, anybody can be a `photographer`.

To get this: In the digital age, anybody can be a photographer.

Italic = `text in here`

Example Photo 1: In the digital age, anybody can be a `photographer`.

To get this: In the digital age, anybody can be a photographer.

Bold and Italic = `text in here`

` text in here `

Example Photo 1: In the digital age, anybody can be a `photographer`.

To get this: In the digital age, anybody can be a photographer.

Break = `text in here
 text in here`

Example Photo 1: In the digital age `
` anybody can be a photographer.

To get this: In the digital age,
anybody can be a photographer.

Paragraph = `text in heretext in here`

Example Photo 1: In the digital age,`` anybody can be a photographer.

To get this: In the digital age,

anybody can be a photographer.

TEXT LINKS

a href = Using the complete URL. That means using the http and the www; and it's placed right before the word or phrase you want to use as your text link.

Example Photo 6:

Typically you want to draw the viewers eye to one spot on the picture, which is the `center of interest`.

To get this:

Typically you want to draw the viewers eye to one spot on the picture, which is the center of interest.

EMAIL LINK

This is a mailto link to : `Jerry`.

To get this: This is a mailto link to Jerry.